FROM THE INVESTMENT DESK

Equity Outlook: May – No cure in sight

After rising ~15% in April 2020, Indian markets ended slightly negative month on month in May 2020. The Nifty 50 Index ended the month with a decline of 2.8% in May while the Nifty Midcap 100 and NIFTY Smallcap 100 indices also saw a minor dip of 1.7% and 1.8% respectively. FPIs turned net buyers in May 2020 after buying equity worth US $1.9 billion, after remaining net sellers for the last two months.

Within our V-L-R-T framework, we view – Valuation Analytics, Liquidity Analytics, Risk Appetite Analytics & Time; Multiple stocks began to look attractive based on our 'Valuation Analytics', which we capitalized on in the last month, leading to our outperformance. Now, however, with the reduced pace of incremental liquidity buildup and a rising risk appetite suggest that we are moving into a brief phase of consolidation in global equities. With weak global cues and a widely anticipated 2nd wave of the virus, we remain cautious on global markets and anticipate another round of market weakness. We continue to remain constructive on pharma & healthcare, utilities and agrochemical stocks and we believe in their outperformance going forward.

In times when the perceived risk is higher than the real risk, investors should use market corrections to their advantage by increasing exposure into actively managed equity strategies, after consulting their advisors. Markets will continue to remain choppy and the dynamic style of money management will take precedence over the more traditional strategies.

Fixed Income – Is the Rainbow here yet?

When will the world triumph over the virus? The world is battling against one problem at large – a pandemic that has shaken the sanity of the people of the earth. With the excessive liquidity pumped in and current low inflation, the moment liquidity peaks out, we will observe heightened inflation.

Domestically, the MPC at its meeting on May 22, 2020 decided to reduce the policy repo rate by 40bps to 4% from 4.40% and its reverse repo rate to 3.5% from 3.75%. Additionally, the MPC also decided to continue with the accommodative stance until necessary with an aim to revive growth and mitigate the impact of COVID-19 on the economy.

With an extended lockdown over the past two months, domestic economic activity has been severely impacted. Although, with the phased easing of the lockdown in the country, there has been a considerable revival in demand. Additionally, Crude oil prices have been inching upwards modestly on account of OPEC's production cuts. In the safe haven, Gold prices are still at their significant peaks in lieu of hedging.

Most recently, CPI Inflation remained subdued, both domestically and across developed economies. This was primarily due to a collapse in Oil Prices and a consequent compression in demand; whereas supply disruption has led to a spike in forward inflation numbers.

In the current context, the inflation outlook is highly uncertain. The forecast of a normal monsoon portends well for forward inflation. However, these factors combined with a favourable base effect will pull down the headline inflation numbers below the target in Q3 and Q4 of FY20-21.

The MPC is of the opinion that the macroeconomic impact of the pandemic is unnerving and far worse than anticipated. Multiple sectors have been targeted with an absolute shutdown and are facing tremendous stress at this juncture. The impact of the shocks has been catapulted with the combination of supply disruption and demand compression. From a very short term standpoint, we continue to believe that the 10-yr GOI benchmark will trade in the range of 6.00-6.25 per cent and the new 10-year may see a sub 6 per cent level.

Let's hope the rainbow shows face soon enough.
